

OUTDOOR WOOD FURNITURE CARE & MAINTENANCE

Teak has a high natural oil content, which makes it highly resistant to damage from rot, decay and insects. This durability against the elements enables teak to last the longest.

However, ongoing maintenance of your teak outdoor furniture is necessary to keep its tone, this will help it continue to look good and ensure the longevity of the piece.

Oiling and maintenance

Our outdoor timber products come pre oiled. With minimal oiling, a stunning honey-brown colour can be maintained.

Teak will patina into silver-grey over time, if left untreated. This process does not affect the strength or quality of wood.

To ensure the ongoing care of your outdoor wood furniture, we recommend adding a coat of fresh oil after purchase and when required to help prevent stains from food and drinks.

We suggest using: Haymes Woodcare Decking Oil. Featuring an advanced formulation to repel water, mould, algae & UV rays.

Exterior Decking Oil preserves and protects timber from the destructive effects of weathering.

The oil-enriched formulation penetrates to nourish the timber while providing a protective barrier to prevent future deterioration of the timber.
