

The beauty of natural solid oak

No wood is the same therefore every piece of furniture is unique.

The wood texture makes every product an original.

Pith rays

Pith rays are a natural feature formed as a result of the growing process of the tree. These natural wood effects are often mistaken for damaged or repaired wood. Pith rays show furniture has been crafted from the finest oak.

Knots

A knot appears on the spot that becomes overgrown around a dormant bunt or as a basis of a new branch. Knots make beautiful wood displays and uniqueness.

Wood colour

The wood colour is influenced by the climate, especially by UV rays. Solid timber products can undergo a degree of colour change overtime.
